Ingredients

- 0.5 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup chocolate chips
- 0.5 cup dutch-processed cocoa powder unsweetened
- 3 large eggs
- 2 cups flour all-purpose
- 1 teaspoon coffee instant
- 1 cup brown sugar light packed ()

- 0.5 cup olive oil extra virgin unsalted for greasing at room temperature (1 stick)
- 0.5 teaspoon sea salt fine
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract pure
- 2 cups zucchini grated unpeeled for optional garnish

Equipment

- food processor
- frying pan
- oven
- knife
- whisk
- mixing bowl
- cake form
- wooden spoon
- spatula
- springform pan

Directions

- Preheat the oven to 350°F and grease a 10-inch springform pan with butter or oil.
- In a large mixing bowl, whisk together the flour, cocoa powder, baking soda, baking powder, and salt. In a food processor, process the sugar and butter until creamy (you can also do this by hand, armed with a sturdy spatula).
- Add the vanilla, coffee granules, and eggs, mixing well between each addition.
- Reserve a cup of the flour mixture and add the rest to the egg mixture.
- Mix until just combined; the batter will be thick.
- Add the zucchini and chocolate chips to the reserved flour mixture and toss to coat. Fold into the batter and blend with a wooden spoon—don't overmix.
- Pour into the prepared cake pan and level the surface with a spatula.
- Bake for 40 to 50 minutes, until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

- Transfer to a rack to cool for 10 minutes, run a knife around the pan to loosen the cake, and unclasp the sides of the pan.
- Let cool to room temperature before serving.
- Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar, glaze with melted chocolate, or decorate with a few slices of raw zucchini (you don't have to eat them, though).
