Ingredients

- 750 g baby potatoes cut into large chunks
- 100 g baby spinach
- 2 fillet haddock smoked
- 700 ml milk whole
- 2 bay leaves
- 0.5 tsp peppercorns black
- 1 egg yolk
- 2 tbsp vegetable oil

- 25 g flour plain
- 4 servings lemon wedges
- 250 ml mayonnaise
- 50 g horseradish fresh grated (or from a jar)
- 0.5 juice of lemon

Equipment

- frying pan
- colander

Directions

- Cook the potatoes in boiling salted water for 10–15 mins until tender.
- Drain in a colander over the spinach so the leaves wilt. Return the potatoes to the pan to steam-dry, then roughly crush with a fork. Leave to cool.
- In a separate pan, poach the haddock in the milk with the bay leaves and peppercorns for 4 mins. Turn off the heat and leave to cook for a few mins more until the flesh flakes.
- Remove to a plate and break into large pieces, discarding the skin and any bones.
- Mix the cooled potato, wilted spinach and haddock with the egg yolk and 3 tbsp of the poaching milk. Form into 4 chunky cakes and chill in the fridge, covered, for at least 30 mins, or overnight.
- Mix all the mayonnaise ingredients together and chill.
- Heat the oil in a large pan over a medium heat.
- Sprinkle flour over the fish cakes and fry for about 5–6 mins on each side until golden and heated through.
- Serve with lemon wedges and a dollop of the horseradish mayo.
