Ingredients

- 4 cups broccoli florets
- 1 cup short-grain brown rice uncooked cooked
- 1.5 cups edamame frozen shelled
- 2 eggs beaten
- 2 tablespoons ginger fresh minced
- 4 garlic clove minced
- 2 cups kale chopped
- 2 tablespoons olive oil light divided

- 3 tablespoons soy sauce reduced-sodium
- 1 bell pepper red seeded chopped
- 2 spring onion thinly sliced
- 8 ounces mushroom caps thinly sliced

Equipment

- frying pan
- spatula
- cutting board

Directions

- Heat a large skillet over high heat.
- Remove from the heat and coat with cooking spray. Return the skillet to the burner and add the eggs, turning the pan to coat it with a thin layer of eggs. Cook 30 seconds, loosening the inside edges of the eggs with a spatula. Gently flip the eggs over and cook 10 to 15 seconds.
- Transfer the eggs to a cutting board.
- Heat the same skillet over medium heat.
- Add half the oil.
- Add the mushrooms, bell pepper, broccoli, and kale. Cook 4 to 5 minutes, turning often, until the vegetables soften.
- Add the garlic and ginger. Cook 1 minute, until it becomes fragrant.
- Increase the heat to high. Push the vegetables to one side of the skillet and add the remaining olive oil, and the rice. Cook 1 to 2 minutes, turning the rice over with a metal spatula and scraping up bits that stick to the pan.
- Add the edamame and soy sauce and remove from the heat. Stir two or three times to mix in the soy sauce.
- Thinly slice the eggs. Top the rice mixture with the eggs and scallions and serve.
