Ingredients

- 0.3 cup almonds raw
- 0.3 cup cashew pieces raw
- 0.5 cup sesame seed white
- 2 tablespoons butter unsalted
- 4 tablespoons honey
- 0.1 teaspoon ground cardamom green
- 1 pinch salt

Equipment

- food processor
- bowl
- baking sheet
- sauce pan
- baking paper
- oven
- whisk
- aluminum foil
- cookie cutter
- spatula

Directions

- Lightly toast the almonds and cashews in a sauce pan. Set aside to cool.
- In the same saucepan, add the sesame seeds and lightly toast them too. Set aside.
- Tip in the roasted almonds and cashews in the food processor with the metal blade and process to make a crumbly powder. The flour u get should not be too chunky or too fine.
- In a medium bowl, tip in the almond-cashew powder,sesame seeds,salt and cardamom powder.
- Combine well and let it sit.
- In a sauce pan,let the butter melt. When it has just about melted, add the honey, whisk the two to an emulsion. Dont cook.
- Preheat oven to 400F. Line a cookie sheet with parchment paper or silicone mats. I think aluminium foil will not work.
- Slowly add the butter-honey mix to the flour-sesame mix and start combining with a spatula. You might need little less or more honey mix if your flour is chunky or fine. The mix once done will resemble a loose cookie dough [but not runny]
- Spoon a dollop [approx 1 tbsp] of the mix on the parchment paper. Dip a fork in oil & flatten out the mix with the help of the back of the fork.

- Bake in oven for 8 -10 minutes or until the crisps are brown. You really need to keep a watch on these coz they cook really fast.
- Once done, take out of the oven and if you want, use a cookie cutter while still warm to a desired shape.
- Let the crisps cool before stacking them in air tight container.
